

Accommodations:

The conference will be held at the Capital Plaza Hotel. The room rate of $83.93 per night (including tax) is only guaranteed until May 5, 2009 so book your rooms early. This rate applies to both single and double occupancies. When making your hotel reservation, be sure to contact Ms. Brandis at brandis@capitalplazaky.com and mention that you are staying for the KSU-Teaching and Network Theory Conference. If you have further questions, the hotel may be reached directly at 502-227-5100 or through their website at <http://www.capitalplazaky.com/Attractions/tabid/964/Default.aspx>.

The hospitality suite will be open during the conference to provide a place to unwind before sessions or just share a pleasant conversation with friends and colleagues. We will be enjoying a joint cocktail reception with the Public Administration Theory Conference on Thursday, May 28th. A list of outside activities and points of interest will be provided during your stay along with their associated costs.
